DHL Cargo Insurance - Optional Service

Freight forwarders and carriers have limited liability under international conventions for the loss or damage to goods; in the case of an incident, your compensation is calculated against a standard liability clause. We recommend to procure a transport insurance from door to door. Please note though that there may be restrictions linked to some countries. The total insurable value shall be calculated as:

(Value of Goods + Total Freight Charges) * 1.1

Notes

Please note this quotation provides the estimated charges for the shipment specified herein based on its dimensions, weight, mode of transport, shipper/consignee, Incoterms, pick-up and delivery location. Charges and transit time might differ in case the actual shipment is different from what is specified in this quotation. Exchange rates at time of quotation are as follows:

GBP 1.0 - USD 1.366604

Brexit means the United Kingdom ceasing to be a member of the European Union. In anticipation, upon and after the event of Brexit DHL Global Forwarding reserves the right to modify all or part of its services to and from the UK, to change its working procedures and the agreed rates, to charge surcharges or otherwise to take measures to adjust its business operations and obligations towards customer to the then prevailing circumstances as a result of Brexit. DHL Global Forwarding shall be relieved of any liability under any contract for services to and from the UK if, and to the extent that, such liability is caused by the consequences of Brexit.

From 1 January 2021, all wood packaging material (including pallets, boxes and crates) moving in both directions between the UK and the EU must meet the ISPM15 international standards.

Non-compliance may lead to delays and penalties, so please ensure that you ship your goods using compliant products. Contact us if you have any questions.

The outbreak of the COVID -19 (coronavirus) has had significant impact on global supply chains, forcing air freight and ocean freight carriers to cancel, reduce or otherwise adjust services and capacities in the market. In this current environment rates and transit times from quoting, booking until shipping are subject to change at any moment without the usual notice periods, all depending on equipment and capacity in the market and for a specific trade. While we are fully committed to mitigate these impacts and ensure our customers interests are safeguarded to the highest degree, these situations nevertheless are outside of DHL Global Forwarding's reasonable control. DHL Global Forwarding will always communicate pro-actively and with full transparency as updates become available
